THE LAST OF EARTH FOR SHERIFF WALKER

The Last Mark of Respect Paid to an Old and Highly Esteemed Resident of Phoenix.

The funeral of the late Sheriff J. Elliott Walker took place yesterday afternoon, from Trinity Episcopal church. The body of the sheriff lay in state through the morning at Morryman's undertaking rooms, where it was viewed by scores of people. Shortly before 2 o'clock it was removed to the church.

The edifice was crowded by the sorrowing friends of the family, many of whom had known the sheriff for years. The seating capacity of the church was insufficient and many were obliged to stand in the aisles.

The floral offerings were profuse. The casket was covered with flowers and roses were banded about the altar. The services were conducted by Bishop J. M. Kendrick, assisted by Rector J. W. Atwood. The musical program was excellent. After the reading of the offices of the church the Knights Templar took charge of the casket and the interment was made in the new Masonic cemetery under the impressive rites of the order.

The pallbearers were Frank Cox, W. B. Cunningham, Walter Talbot, E. J. Bennett, N. A. Morford and J. W. Crenshaw.

The services were of a public character. Since the death of the sheriff the flag on the court house has been at half mast and yesterday morning every door of the building was hung with the emblem of woe. All offices were closed between the hours of 2 and 4 and all the county officers and deputies attended the funeral and the interment in a body. The territorial officials in the city, including Governor Kibbey and Chief Justice Kent, were also present.

THE RELEASE OF HICKS ANOTHER "TOMORROW"

His Rescuers Are Confident of the Happy Ending of Their Labors This Morning.

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 21.—"Hicks will be rescued tomorrow" has become a commonplace remark about Bakersfield but is nevertheless apt. The work has brought to view a great number of crevices which lead directly to the side of Hicks between the wheels of the ore car. Not only is conversation possible through these cracks but it was found that small articles could be lowered by means of a string through a hole to the captive miner. A lighted candle was dropped to him and he was by the reflection from its glare able to survey the scenes of his earthly enclosure. He reported that the sudden introduction of light did not at all injure his eyes and that indeed he would be willing to sacrifice one just to get a sight of the precious rays of the sun. The crevices disclose the fact that the company's engineers have been absolutely correct in their calculations. A candle was dropped on a string eighteen inches long and struck plumb at the side of the ore car, proving exactly where Engineer Hall and his assistants planned to arrive. High hopes are extended for the release of Hicks shortly after daylight tomorrow morning. Only the perpendicular distance to the falls is yet to be gone through and this will surely not occupy the attention of more than the night shift.

A MERE OVERSIGHT.

The Railroad Companies Did Not Keep Tab on Growth of the Country.

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 21.—Tacoma people are not suffering from need of fuel, although the scarcity of coal and wood is causing considerable inconvenience. This was the substance of statements made by local coal dealers to members of the state investigating committee at its session today. The Tacoma Eastern railroad and Tacoma Railroad and Power company promised to co-operate with the retail fuel dealers in rushing to the city several thousand cords of wood. This afternoon Chairman Fairchild arranged for the relief of the cities in eastern Washington which have been suffering because of a fuel famine by securing the promise of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company to furnish all available coal cars to the Northern Pacific to be used in rushing coal from British Columbia to non-competitive points on the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company's road which have been suffering acutely because of a lack of fuel.

Chairman Fairchild at the close of today's session completely exonerated the officials of the operating department of the Northern Pacific railroad from charges that have been made against them and adds: "But the executive department of the railroad has badly neglected its duty in not keeping pace with the growth of the country."

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Maning Many Thousand Men to the Colorado River Break.

San Francisco, Dec. 21.—Between 3000 and 4000 Southern Pacific workmen are to be hurried to the scene of the Colorado river break. The necessary embankment may be completed within 90 days and the waters restored to their normal channel.

Acting on instructions received today from E. H. Harriman of New York, E. E. Calvin of San Francisco, vice president and general manager of the company has issued orders that will assemble at the scene men and cars from southern California and Arizona and New Mexico. Rock and labor will be rushed to the danger point place called Lower Heading sixteen miles south of Yuma just across the line.
